

VIRGINIA SWEETSPIRE, Itea virginica

- Light: Sun to part shade
- Soil: Well-drained
- Moisture: Tolerates moisture
- Size: To 10 feet
- Zone: 5 - 9

This easy to grow native adds beauty to the garden for months, starting with fragrant white flowers in the summer and ending the year with deep purple foliage.

DIERVILLA, Diervilla lonicera

- Light: Full sun to part shade
- Soil: Well-drained
- Moisture: Medium
- Size: 3 to 4 feet
- Zone: 4 – 8

An easy to grow native shrub that will tolerate clay soil. Sometimes called bush honeysuckle, but they are not invasive.

SMOKEBUSH, Cotinus cogyria

- Light: Part shade to shade
- Soil: Well-drained
- Moisture: Tolerates moisture
- Size: To 15 feet
- Zone: 5 – 8

A multi-season treasure! Beginning in late spring and continuing into summer, feathery plumes cover the bush. Summer foliage can be purple or gold with leaves turning brilliant orange in fall.

WITCH HAZEL, Hamamelis virginiana

- Light: Shade
- Soil: Well-drained
- Moisture: Tolerates moisture
- Size: To 12 feet
- Zone: 3 – 8

One of the earliest native shrubs to bloom. Valued for its spidery yellow flowers, the golden fall foliage is another plus.

FOTHERGILLA, Fothergilla major

- Light: Shade
- Soil: Well-drained
- Moisture: Tolerates moisture
- Size: 5 to 6 feet
- Zone: 5 to 8

Attractive native for those difficult spots. Blue-green spring foliage, gold in autumn; hint of honey scent in its blooms.

VIBURNUM

- Light: Sun to part shade
- Soil: Well-drained
- Moisture: Tolerates moisture
- Size: By variety, 3 to 16 feet
- Zone: 2 to 7

Gorgeous blooms early spring that attracts butterflies and other pollinators; berries for birds in the winter; disease resistant; a real winner

SUMAC, Rhus typhina

- Light: Full Sun
- Soil: Well-drained
- Moisture: Moderate
- Size: To 15 feet
- Zone: 3 – 8

Native shrub with exceptional fall color; tendency to spread

NINEBARK, Physocarpus opulifolius

- Light: Full sun to part shade
- Soil: Well-drained; Slightly acidic
- Moisture: Medium to dry
- Size: 5 - 8 feet
- Zone: 2 – 8

White to pink blooms cover this native shrub May through June. Mature branches features beautiful peeling bark.